the heartwarming underdog story of the 1924 washington senators in 1924 washington senators team president clark griffith hired bucky harris his twenty seven year old second baseman to manage the senators a decision called griffith s folly yet the senators inspired by their fiery new leader found themselves in first place heading into the homestretch the question remained with an untested manager and an aging star pitcher would they be able to hold on for the first world championship in team history in team of destiny walter johnson clark griffith bucky harris and the 1924 washington senators gary sarnoff recounts the uplifting story of a team that surpassed all expectations and gave washington fans a season to remember before the season began legendary pitcher walter johnson announced the 1924 season would be his last sarnoff tells how in the heat of a grueling pennant race the surging senators won the approval of the entire country who cheered on the underdogs and the thirty six year old johnson a fight to the finish saw the senators on top and into the world series where johnson was called to the mound in the final game in the ninth inning with all eyes upon him would walter johnson come through team of destiny describes in wonderful detail this remarkable season and the players who made it unforgettable one hundred years later it s still a story that is sure to inspire all generations of baseball fans in a world of supercomputers genetic engineering and fiber optics technological creativity is ever more the key to economic success but why are some nations more creative than others and why do some highly innovative societies such as ancient china or britain in the industrial revolution pass into stagnation beginning with a fascinating concise history of technological progress mokyr sets the background for his analysis by tracing the major inventions and innovations that have transformed society since ancient greece and rome what emerges from this survey is often surprising the classical world for instance was largely barren of new technology the relatively backward society of medieval europe bristled with inventions and the period between the reformation and the industrial revolution was one of slow and unspectacular progress in technology despite the tumultuous developments associated with the voyages of discovery and the scientific revolution what were the causes of technological creativity mokyr distinguishes between the relationship of inventors and their physical environment which determined their willingness to challenge nature and the social environment which determined the openness to new ideas he discusses a long list of such factors showing how they interact to help or hinder a nation s creativity and then illustrates them by a number of detailed comparative studies examining the differences between europe and china between classical antiquity and medieval europe and between britain and the rest of europe during the industrial revolution he examines such aspects as the role of the state the chinese gave up a millennium wide lead in shipping to the europeans for example when an emperor banned large ocean going vessels the impact of science as well as religion politics and even nutrition he questions the importance of such commonly cited factors as the spill over benefits of war the abundance of natural resources life expectancy and labor costs today an ever greater number of industrial economies are competing in the global market locked in a struggle that revolves around technological ingenuity the lever of riches with its keen analysis derived from a sweeping survey of creativity throughout history offers telling insights into the question of how western economies can maintain and developing nations can unlock their creative potential
